THQ To Develop Two Titles for Mac/IBM PC Based on Disney/Pixar's Finding Nemo

Games Scheduled For Release With The Animated Feature In May 2003

CALABASAS HILLS, CA - January 7, 2003 - THQ® Inc. (NASDAQ: THQ) today announced that it is currently developing two titles for Mac/IBM PC based on Disney/Pixar's Finding Nemo, scheduled for release concurrent with its theatrical debut on May 30, 2003. THQ's interactive adventures based on Finding Nemo, are the first under the Company's exclusive, multi-property publishing agreement with award-winning interactive entertainment publisher Disney Interactive and the Academy Award®-winning Pixar Animation Studio.

"Pixar's track record of animated films has demonstrated the successful translation of creative technology and humor into blockbuster animated motion pictures including Disney/Pixar's Toy Story, A Bug's Life, Toy Story 2, and, most recently, Monsters, Inc.," said Peter Dille, vice president, marketing, THQ. "Our interactive adaptations of each of these Disney/Pixar properties have been top performers at retail and we look forward to bringing Finding Nemo to multiple platforms, alongside the movie, for kids of all ages to enjoy."

THQ will publish two different titles based on the Finding Nemo for the Mac/IBM PC, each developed by Know Wonder, an Amaze Entertainment Studio. The first Disney/Pixar's Finding Nemo for the Mac/IBM PC will feature arcade-style gameplay and follow the adventures of Nemo and his marine-life friends. The game will be set in a 3-D underwater environment and allow players to play key movie characters including Nemo, Marlin and Dory, each with varied abilities. Gamers will explore several levels including mini-game and bonus levels.

The second offering of Disney/Pixar's Finding Nemo (working title) for the Mac/IBM PC will be an adventure game featuring mini-games and puzzle challenges involving the film's central characters. Each game will be geared to entertain, challenge, and inspire kids to exercise their creative and critical thinking skills. The games will include puzzles designed to cultivate exploration, cooperation and problem solving. Following the movie's message, the game will help teach children courage, perseverance, trust and the value of coming to the aid of one another.
